A meeting of the Procurement Policy Panel, which includes as members all senior contracting officers in CIA, was held on 19 May 1983. The agenda covered events of current interest and significant policy changes under way, such as foreign ownership, control, or influence and the prohibition against contracting with former employees for a period of 2 years after leaving Agency employment. The official business meeting was followed by a presentation from Mr. James McDonald, Associate Deputy Director for Administration, who spoke generally on the state of the Agency. As a final event, a wine and cheese reception was visited by approximately [] CIA staffers involved in the procurement process. The purpose of the reception was to bring together new staffers with old and to generally develop improved cohesiveness and communication throughout the procurement functional area.
